PROJECTS

- Codify
Codify is a web application designed to showcase my skills and experience. Whether you're a potential employer or collaborator, this platform is a one-stop shop to learn about me and the kind of work I do.
- Shopify
Shopify web application is essentially an online store. It allows businesses to sell products and services directly to consumers over the internet. Customers can browse product listings, add items to a virtual shopping cart, and securely complete purchases using the application.
- Melodyne
Melodyne web applications allow producers to directly sell their instrumental creations, or "beats," to musicians, rappers, and other artists. These platforms provide a space to upload and showcase beats, set prices and licenses, and facilitate secure transactions. This streamlines the beat- selling process for producers and opens up a vast pool of potential buyers, all within a user-friendly online environment.
